

_____, an English political Enlightenment philosopher, advocated the overthrow of government that abuses the subjects' rights of life, liberty, and property.

John Locke

Who wrote Poor Richard's Almanac?

Benjamin Franklin

Who wrote the pamphlet "Common Sense"? Why was it so important?

1) Thomas Paine 2) It was widely sold and had a great deal of influence in urging Americans to achieve independence from Britain.

What event inspired Francis Scott Key to write "The Star-Spangled Banner"?

The holding firm of Fort McHenry against British bombardment during the invasion of Chesapeake Bay.

What nineteenth-century American author is best remembered for his portraits of Hudson River characters?

Washington
Irving

Alexis de Tocqueville's book, _____, published in 1835, reflected a broad interest in the entire spectrum of the American democratic process and the society in which it developed.

Democracy in America

The _____ movement of the nineteenth century emphasized the emotions and feelings over rationality.

Romanticism

What famous nineteenth-century author wrote Leatherstocking Tales?

James
Fenimore
Cooper

Which famous nineteenth-century
author wrote
Leaves of Grass?

Walt
Whitman

The epic poems Evangeline and Hiawatha were written by _____.
_____.

Henry
Wadsworth
Longfellow

True or False:
Moby-Dick, Typee, and Billy Budd were written by Nathaniel Hawthorne.

False, Herman Melville was the author

_____ by Francis Parkman described the opening frontier of the Rocky Mountains and beyond.

The Oregon
Trail